

Code Wars Intra 2007

Addicted to computers, tech stuff, gadgets and lines of code?

The Ultimate is here. The Code Warriors are looking for fresh talent – and if you think you know tech stuff which others don't, we need you. In the tenth year of the Code Warriors, we need people with exceptional talent in computers and tech stuff.

Code Wars Intra 2007 will be held on 24th July 2007 starting from 8am in the school Internet Lab. The events are:

- Programming: We'll be checking you for logic and problem solving ability in C++.
- Web Designing / Digital Imaging / Flash Animation: You need to prove yourself worthy in any of the three events listed here. HTML, PHP, SQL, CSS – just show your proficiency in any of these.
- Tech Quiz: We'll test your knowledge in cutting edge technology, latest tech buzz, tech trivia and history.
- Group Discussion: Good at public speaking and crazy about tech too? This an event where you need prove your prowess in tech knowledge and speaking ability.

Interested students are expected to report at the given time, venue and date. And in case you think you have a talent in some other field related to tech, do contact us. The best students get the opportunity to be a part of the Code Warriors, the computer club which has won tons of accolades over the last decade, winning hundreds of awards and consistently being recognised as one of the best tech clans around.

For more information, visit www.code-warriors.org